Poetry.

Thy Mother, Boy.

BY MRS. SIGOURNEY.

Who, when thine infant life was young,
Delighted, o'er thy cradle hung,
With pity soothed each childish moan,
And made thy little griefs her own?
Who sleepless watched in hours of pain,
Nor smiled till thou wert well again?
Who sorrowed from thy sight to part,
And bore thee, absent, on her heart?
Thy mother, boy! How canst thou pay
Her tender care by night and day?
Who joined thy sports with cheerful air,
And joyed to see thee strong and fair?
Who, with fond pride, to guest and friend,
Would still the darling child commend?
Whose tears in secret, flowed like rain,
If sin or woe thy life did stain?
And who with prayer's unceasing sigh,
Besought for thee a home on high?
Thy mother, boy! How canst thou pay
Her tireless love by night and day?
Bear on thy brow the lofty smile
Of upright duty, free from guile;
With earnest diligence restrain
The word, the look, that gives her pain:
If weary till her path invade,
Come fond and fearless to her aid;
Nerve the young arm her steps to guide;
If fades her cheek, be near her side;
And by a life of goodness pay
Her care and love, by night and day.

On Being Slandered.

Not all they say or do can make
My head, or tooth, or finger ache,
Nor mar my shape, nor scar my face,
Nor put one feature out of place;
Nor will ten thousand, thousand lies,
Make me less virtuous, learned or wise;
The most effectual way to baulk
Their malice, is—to let them talk.

[From the Cultivator.
A Warm Bed for Pigs.

TO THE EDITORS:—I very well remember a saying of an old gentleman, an excellent farmer that if you would make a hog profitable, you should not let him see a winter; and I think I have satisfied myself, that spring pigs well kept and nursed, are far less expensive, and yield more in return for their keeping than those which are fifteen or eighteen months old. But there is one thing quite certain; if we prefer our store hogs to come in the fall, we ought to be careful to keep them through our long cold winters both warm and dry. Every observant farmer knows that if his cattle are not sheltered from the cold weather and storm, they will require more food to keep them in tolerable order, than if they are kept warm and comfortable. Just so it is with pigs—if they are suffered to run over your premises in the snow and sleet, with their legs and snout as red as the gill of a gobbler, without a warm and dry bed of clean straw to resort to when they choose, they will not only, in all probability come out with the range in the spring, but in every grant they will convince you that all the food they have devoured, has been thrown away; for shoats that have a cold, damp, comfortless bed, will get mangy, and mangy pigs cannot grow. Let any one who has a mind to try the experiment, take two pigs of one litter, suffer the one to run as above, and let the other be housed, and well fed, and it will be found that the superior growth of the latter will pay for the care bestowed upon him, with good interest. Hogs that are confined, and cannot get to the earth, will frequently be benefited by having a little charcoal, soft brickbats, or soft wood thrown into them, and a trifling quantity of brimstone mixed in their food occasionally is an excellent thing. The hog has the credit of being a dirty fellow—but we should remember that he likes to be dirty in his own way, and for his own pleasure; he neither prefers to live cold, nor in filth—still less does he choose to be half fed.—Doctor Franklin's man said the hog was the only gentleman in England, because he alone was exonerated from labor. If this be so, surely he ought to be well fed and housed in America. I entirely believe that the same amount of food that will barely carry a pig through the winter with bad management, will, with good, prudent treatment, keep him growing and in the spring you have something to build upon, that will by and by make you a soiled porker, who will do credit to your sty.

HOTEL FOR INVALIDS AT PITTSBURGH.

Drs. Speer and Kuhn.

THE object of this establishment is to supply a want greatly felt by respectable travellers on our western highways—by residents, without family, taken sick—and by patients from the surrounding towns and country who resort to this place for relief from surgical and other diseases. Such have often suffered from the want of the various comforts and attentions so necessary and agreeable to the sick, and from careless and unfaithful nurses; and been subjected to heavy and unreasonable charges.

Invalids will here be provided with constant, faithful and comfortable attendance, and at a rate much below the usual charges.

While the care of both physicians will be extended to every variety of disease, it is intended by Dr. Speer, to give special attention to

ALL SURGICAL DISEASES,

PARTICULARLY TO
DISEASES OF THE EYE.
To these branches of his profession he has given a large share of his attention for the last twenty-five years, and he will continue to devote to them the experience acquired by a constant practice during that time.

The Hotel for Invalids is not an experiment. Its establishment is suggested not only as necessary to supply an evident want in this city, in the entire absence of any special provision for the sick, but is warranted also by the success of similar institutions at Cincinnati and New Orleans—the former under the care of Drs. Taliaferro, Marshall and Strader—the latter under that of Dr. Stone.

The building selected for the purpose is situated at the corner of Federal and Robinson streets, in Allegheny city, adjoining the city of Pittsburgh. It is commodious and roomy, and furnished with all accommodations necessary for the sick.

Applications for admission to be made to the subscribers, at their office on Penn street, Pittsburgh, or at the establishment.

No contagious diseases will be admitted.

DR. DUNCAN'S EXPECTORANT REMEDY,

FOR CONSUMPTION,

Colds, Coughs, Spitting of Blood, Bronchitis, Difficulty of Breathing, Asthma, Pain in the Side, Breast and Chest, Whooping Cough, Croup, and all Diseases of the Liver and Lungs.

BEWARE OF CONSUMPTION.
We behold many who unfortunately are the object of disease, borne down by its pain and distress, without a medicine to strengthen and soothe the enfeebled frame, or relieve the poisoned mind; kind Providence has caused Nature to produce a HEALING BALM for all infirmities, particularly the afflicted. Healers, whose labors have been so successful to discover the Medical Agent for the removal and cure of a disease which seems for ages to have defied the powers of the healing art, should be regarded in the light of a public benefactor.

The proprietor of Dr. Duncan's EXPECTORANT REMEDY claims this, substantiated by thousands who are living monuments restored from the bed of sickness to the enjoyment of their dearest friends, and again rendered an ornament to society.

Those who suffer with the premonitory symptoms of CONSUMPTION, should not neglect themselves from time to time, until the disease becomes seated, and rendered beyond the control of medicine, but immediately procure Dr. Duncan's Expectorant Remedy—a medicine that certainly to remove all the first evil seeds of Consumption, when used in due season.

Just received a box of the above medicine and for sale by Parker & Ankeny, the only authorized agent for Somerset county.
